"This Continuous Learning Framework diagnostic chart was designed by Key Housing for use on their management development programme and in particular their "Leading and Managing Individualised Services" course. Participants become familiar with the personal capabilities across the 4 stages of progression and practise using the Framework in a graphic format. By shading in the relevant sections, the diagnostic chart provides an immediate visual overview of an individual's capabilities.

The initial "diagnosis" is then considered in relation to examples from practice and augmented by verbal and written forms of communication. This ensures that any evaluation is evidence based and serves to give an outcome-oriented direction and focus to supervision and appraisals."
